

Visit Us On MySpace!

Your Online Source for College Entertainment

<<< FILM >>>

Hosted by and

NEUROTIC CITY

Moving McAllister

(First Independent Pictures)

By Zach Hines

Moving McAllister is a fun, romantic road trip comedy. Rick, a law intern played by Ben Gourley (who also wrote the movie) agrees to drive his boss' daughter Michelle, played by the stunningly beautiful Mila Kunis, across country in an attempt to get a real job at the firm.

One of the highlights of the film is its creative use of dream sequences. There are several times in the film where Rick is either drugged or sleeping and has some very colorful dream sequences that make fun of 2001: A Space Odyssey and The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly.

Grade: B

Moving McAllister releases in select theaters Sept. 14.